He tore it on a nail when we were playing shipwrecked on top of the shed the day Harry fell off and cut his chin: he still has the scar. Dora is the only one of us who ever to mend anything. Alice tries to make things sometimes. Once she a red scarf for Noel because his chest is delicate, but it was much wider at one end the other, and he wouldn't wear it. So we used it as a flag, and it did very well, because most of our things are black or grey since Mother died; and scarlet was a change.

The women and children were being lined up awaiting their turn. Some still clung desperately to husbands and fathers; others clutched their children closely to their chests. One girl stood alone, apart from the rest. She was quite young, not more than eighteen. She did not seem afraid, and her grave, eyes looked straight ahead.

"I beg your pardon."

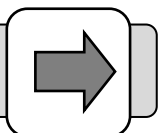

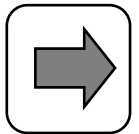

A man's voice beside her made her start and turn. She had noticed the speaker more than once amongst the first-class passengers. There had been a of mystery about him which had appealed to her imagination.
